Jobfinder

Problem:

Aging problem is one of the main problems over the world, and the number of elderly people is keep increasing every year. The reason why the aging is a problem is because elderly people normally have plenty of time due to retirement. Elderly people might feel lonely and less social activity. However, most of the elderly people are experienced at some aspects, such as bakery and cooking.

Solution:

Based on the problems and results that I mentioned above, I would like to discover a application which is able find opportunities for elderly people to teach or learn new skills in order to connect them with society.

How it works:

The design we are using mobile application, because we assume that some elderly people are not familiar with web application.

Steps to start finding jobs for you

- Download Application from App store / online.
- Sign up your account with your basic information.
- Choose your specialties/interests.
- You will be shown on the specialty list that you have chosen. Also you could find people who good at your interests.

Features:

Build friendship Learn new skills Develop own interests